Show Your LSU Pride with Tiger Checks

Where college football is concerned, there are fans and then there are fans who are devoted. Louisiana State University has some of the most dedicated fans in the entire sport. If you are an LSU fan and you want to show off your LSU Fighting Tigers pride, then you should unquestionably consider using bank checks with the LSU logo. Not only are the checks an economical way of showing your team pride, but it also makes your otherwise simple checks more attractive.

Louisiana State University football has been going strong since 1893. Up till now, LSU has won three national championships and was the first team ever to win two Bowl Championship Series titles in 2008.

The third largest football stadium in the SEC tournament, Tiger Stadium is sometimes referred to as "Death Valley" due to the noises that the 92,400 fans produce. ESPN even recorded a decibel level of 119 at some parts of the game in 2003. If Tiger Stadium were a city, it would be the sixth largest city in the state of Louisiana. Mike the Tiger is the team's official mascot. Mike, named after a former LSU athletics trainer, is a real Bengal tiger.

When it comes to choosing your LSU checks, there are a couple of choices available. One choice is a check series that includes yellow checks, with the tiger mascot on the left and the purple LSU logo embossed in the middle. Matching accessories such as a coordinating debit card holder, coordinating address labels, and the matching checkbook cover are also obtainable. The accessorizing leather checkbook cover is purple and contains the LSU tiger's image.

Another check series available is the LSU #1 fan checks. In addition to a picture of an avid fan cheering the team on, the tiger logo is also featured on these checks. Coordinating accessories are recommended with these designs, as well.

Both of these checks are available in duplicate and wallet form. If you're a busy fan and find that you're having trouble keeping up with the checks that you write, you might want to think about the duplicate checks. Duplicate checks leave a copy behind of each check that you write. The wallet sized checks are just the typical top-tear formatted checks.

Apart from the corresponding address labels, contact cards, and stickers, you might also want to think about other checking accessories like fraud prevention pens, check registers, calculators, and deposit slips.

Although it used to be pricey to obtain personal bank checks, it no longer has to be. When you get your checks online at a safe site, you can save up to 50% off of your bank's fee. You will also have access to a multitude of designs, like the LSU Tiger checks, and you will get your checks in your mailbox in approximately 5 days.

Let everyone know that you are a proud fan of LSU by ordering your checks now. All you need to know is your routing number and checking account number.
